BLUES AND SENATORS PLAY A PHE-NOMENAL FIELDING GAME,

Both Pitchers Hit Freely, but Fast Fielding Cuts Down the Hits-Viox Meets With Two Col-'islons-Other Games.

COLUMBUS, O., June 3.-(Special.) To day's game was a repetition of yester day's, the Blues finally coming out of the small end of the horn after nine innings of the fastest kind of ball, in which nearly every member of the teams played an important part. Hastings and Bumpus Jones were the opposing slabmen, and both were touched up freely, but the phenomenal fielding behind them pulled them out of many a bad hole and cut off runs that seemed impossible to prevent. It was rather a bruising game, in which every advantage was taken and nothing let slip that would possibly result in the advance of a base runner. Viex had a little bard luck in the first luning when gathering Frank's grounder-he collided with Pickering, but pluckily completed a double play by throwing Frank out at first. The next inning Rony got in front of one of Jones' inshoots and for a time it looked as though he would be compelled to retire from the game-but he didn't.

The Blues started scoring in the first inning after two men had lifted high flies to the outfield. Gettman singled, stole second and went to third on Gillen's er-ror, which gave Ganzel life. When John ror, which gave Ganzel life. When John stole second Gettman, by fast sprinting, crossed the plate ahead of the return throw. In every inning except the fourth, fifth and seventh the Blues had men on the bases, but fast work prevented them from scoring each time. Two singles in the ninth inning might have tied the score had not Miller taken too great a chance trying to reach third, where he was caught by a throw from left field. Columbus got her runs in the first on Jenin's pass, a scratch bunt that Pickering beat out, on which Genins reached third, and from which place he scored on a double play. In the third, the second and winning run came in when Rothfuss pisjudged Genin's long fly, and Pickering coubled down the left foul line. Columbus had men on bases every inning after that, but could not get them around. The score:

BEAUTY AND ATTRACTIVENESS OF THE COUNTRY CLUB.

Mr. Young Wins the Cup With a Score of 94, Playing Second Half in 45-Match Between Dr. Binney and Mr. Harmon.

The Country Club presented an animated | treatment. appearance yesterday afternoon, though the crowd was cut down considerably by the threatening weather early in the aftrnoon. At that, many of the ladies looked the weather man in the eye and dared him to let the rain fall-he didn't-and their comfortable golf costumes and light ummer dresses added color and beauty to a picture that was already charming to the tired eyes of the man of business who had spent the week amid dusty streets and sordid accounts.

The golf contagion that has spread over the country can well be understood after a visit to the Kansas City Country Club. The very air that surrounds it breathes The very air that surrounds it breathes freedom and the hearty bonhomie of the members makes the club an ideal spot. The connection between golf and a country club is open to several constructions; but the simplest explanation lies in the fact that it gives the men something to do to take their thoughts away from business cares and, besides, offers a game, the science of which cannot be conceived by the unlearned. It fires the spirit and makes the cockles of the blood move with a rapidity that is exhilarating. And after the game, the excited fancy going over the movements of a victory or defeat, a glass of lemonade—or something else—at charming lady, a broad veranda and a stiff southern breeze—what more can a man want on this earth?

The quarters of the club are in themselves sufficient to make it an attractive place but this is enhanced by the pres-

The cries increased to a perfect uproar as the men came into the stretch, but Moloney managed to get through and won out by a desperate spurt. As the Michigan men left the track and started to their quarters, one excited spectator swung at Barrett, and in a second the bicycle track incline and part of the field at its edge was a mass of shouting, fighting men. Policemen jumped into the crowd, however, and hustled the original offender out of the grounds.

Latonia Races.

CINCINNATI, O., June 3.—The expected great battle between the queens of the turf, May Hempstead and Rush, in the Latenia Oaks to-day, figiled out into a ranning victory for the former. Rush did not appear to be at her best going to the peat, and, after setting a merry pace for five-eighths of a mile, shightered and the filly seen passed her. May Hempstead then took up the running and was never in trauble, winning under restraint by five lengths. E. S. Gardner's filly. Freak, held down second position all the way, and got the place cavily from Fredininary, who heat Souchon two lengths for the third money. May Hempstead was favorite at oldy of 9 to 10, and was heavily played by her owners. Hearley & Norton. Rush opened at even money, but was as good as 6 to 5 at the close. The net value of the Oaks was $4,280. Over $0.00 people witnessed the day's sport. The weather was fine and the track fast. Summaries:

SCORE OF LOCAL FIRMS SUED BY ATTORNEY GENERAL CROW.

ANTI-COMBINE LAW UNDER

PROPRIETORS OF THE OWL DRUG STORE THE COMPLAINANTS.

They Allege the Pharmaceutical As sociation Tried to Boycott Them -Ask That the Charter of Evans-Smith Company Be Revoked.

Suit was brought in the circuit court yesterday against the thirty-four members of the Kansas City Pharmaceutical Asse ciation, on the ground that it is an un tuted by Frank Walsh, in the name of Atercollegiate record by 21 seconds.

Davis, Chicago, finished second, but was bounded for fouling.

The proprietors of the Owl drug store, who torney General Crow, and demands the dissolution of the Pharmaceutical Association. The proprietors of the Owl drug store, who are the complainants, allege that this association was formed for the purpose of getting the wholesale druggists to boycott them, because they were seling at reduced prices.

A revocation of the franchise of the Evans-Smith Drug Company is demanded in the petition, together with a penalty of $100 a day against the other druggists for every day since March I, or the sum of $2,000 each.

The suit is based on the anti-trust law of 1895, prescribing a penalty of $100 a day for each day an individual or firm is the member of a trust or combine.

The constitutionality of this law has been upheld by a recent decision of the supreme court.

The Druggists' Combine-

Has heard the voice of the law-like the Filipino, dismay and consternation is in their ranks-it has been forcibly brought to the minds of the combine leaders that this is a free country-"a government of the people, for the people and by the people"-a country where every merchant has the inalienable right to sell goods at the prices he pleases just as long as he conducts his : business squarely and honorably. They realize that their efforts to force this store into a combine to advance the price of sickroom necessities in order to line their own greedy purses with the hard earned dollars of the people will be of no avail-that all the combines in the world can't kill enterprise and business push, when backed by the voice of the people as expressed by their lawmakers.

We give it out flat, we have built up an enormous business that has set all the other druggists in town against us by making right prices—by selling cheaper. We shall not relinquish the right to make those prices, combine or no combine.
